

I have been listening to Air1 for a year now. This station has given a great impact to my children and as well as myself in our lives. It has and will continue to build me up spiritually.

If it were to be displaced to a LPFM service it will effect the community greatly as you well know that the listeners call in to let other listeners know what a great joy it is to have this radio station.